LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
OF FOR CHICAGO.

About two hundred Wide Awakes left this city this morning at 8 o'clock, to join in the great republican demonstration to-day and this evening, in honor of the visit to Chicago of the great statesman, WILLIAM H. SEWARD. It will doubtless, be the largest political meeting ever held in the west, and the display of the Wide Awakes in the evening will surpass anything of the kind ever before attempted. Our Wide Awake company turned out pretty strong, and they have some hopes, we believe, of bringing back the $100 prize banner. This we think is hardly probable, as the test will be the number of each company compared with the republican vote of the town or city from whence they come. Our vote for governor last fall, in this city, being pretty large, will lessen our chances for securing the prize. Whatever may be the result, all will be amply repaid by the interesting occasion upon which they meet to do honor to the great statesman of New York, and in aiding to swell the tide of enthusiasm which is to carry "honest old Abe" into the presidential chair.

[Reported for the Gazette.]
WISCONSIN CONFERENCE.

At the appointed hour Prof. L. L. Knox, of the Lawrence University preached the missionary sermon from Ps. 4, 6: "Who will show us any good." Though the Professor lacks some of the fire of western Young America, with some good degree of force he showed that good is to be found in bringing ourselves into harmony with the great eternal laws of the universe, and exhorted all to obtain this harmony and consequently to possess the missionary spirit.

The annual meeting for the election of officers was held immediately after the sermon, and the following officers were elected:

V. President—E. Cooke, D. D.
Secretary—P. S. Bennett.
Treasurer—P. B. Pease.
Managers—J. M. Walker, L. D. Tracy, W. H. Sampson, N. J. Aplin, W. Lattin, E. P. Beecher.

The anniversary was held in the evening. Dr. Cooke presided and made a few remarks. The treasurer then made his report, showing that there has been received within the bounds of the conference for the past year $1,600 39. Janesville was the banner station, and Janesville district the banner district.

After the reading of the report, Rev. Benj. Barrett, a local English preacher, was called on and made some very interesting remarks. He left the audience all convulsed with laughter, some so far forgetting themselves as to cheer with their feet. The singing of that grand old missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," by the whole audience as well as by the choir was truly sublime.

Dr. W. L. Harris, who was expected on Saturday, was called upon the platform and gave a very interesting, yet hasty survey of the missions connected with our church and then wound up with a most stirring strain. It was grand, lovely, sublime and pathetic. Such a glorious ashering in of gospel day does not often fall upon mortal car. The secretary seems all alive to his work and infuses new fire into all that listen to his noble strains.

A good part of the session this morning was occupied in receiving new members on trial. Dr. Harris made some stirring remarks, urging the preachers to greater activity in raising missionary funds. Rev. Mr. Sharpe a delegate from the Primitive Methodists, made some interesting communications, also Rev. Rufus Smith a delegate from the Frankan Evangelical Synod, made some thoroughly Holy Ghost remarks. Prof. D. Y. Kilgore, Principal of the Evansville Seminary, made some high promises for the Seminary in the future.

Session of the conference this evening at 7.

FOURTH WARD CAUCUS.—The committee in the 4th ward have designated Hume's planing mill as the place for holding the caucus to appoint senatorial delegates.

The three or four days of rainy and cloudy weather has had the effect to prepare the ground for fall ploughing, fill cisterns, raise the river—all desirable objects, which more than compensate for the gloomy, muddy and drizzling time we have endured. To day the clouds have vanished and sunshine enlivens the scene. Our streets will soon be filled again with a busy throng and trade and commerce resume their sway. It is a good thing to have clouds and storms, once in a while, that we may enjoy the bright, cheerful weather, of which we have so much in this latitude and meridian.

EVERETT'S LIFE OF WASHINGTON.—Sheldon and company, of New York, have issued a Life of Washington, by Edward Everett, in a neat duodecimo volume of 348 pages. It was written for the Encyclopedia Britannica at the suggestion of Lord Macaulay. It is, of course, somewhat condensed, but is nevertheless a very interesting biography, written as it is in the faultless style of Mr. Everett. The domestic life of Washington is more particularly described than by any previous author. This volume may be found at Newell's, where a large assortment of new and choice books have recently been received.

NO CIRCUS.—Owing to the sickness of several of the performers the circus has been obliged to return home, therefore they will not visit this city to-morrow.

COMMON COUNCIL.—The city council had a meeting last night, and extended the time for the collection of taxes, twenty days. An ordinance was also introduced to prevent throwing nuisances into the river.

See notice in another column, "To Business Men." Lawyers and others having a surplus of writing on hand can be satisfactorily relieved of it by entrusting it to Mr. H.

Douglas vs. Douglas and the Missouri Compromise.

From Douglas' Speech in Springfield, Ill., 1850.

The Missouri Compromise had its origin in the hearts of a few men who desired to preserve and perpetuate the slave system of the United States—on the basis of that constitution of the United States, which was framed by the same men who framed the Missouri Compromise.

It is a fact that the Missouri Compromise was a mere compromise, and that it was never intended to be a permanent one.

It is a fact that the Missouri Compromise was a mere compromise, and that it was never intended to be a permanent one.

It is a fact that the Missouri Compromise was a mere compromise, and that it was never intended to be a permanent one.

It is a fact that the Missouri Compromise was a mere compromise, and that it was never intended to be a permanent one.

It is a fact that the Missouri Compromise was a mere compromise, and that it was never intended to be a permanent one.

It is a fact that the Missouri Compromise was a mere compromise, and that it was never intended to be a permanent one.

It is a fact that the Missouri Compromise was a mere compromise, and that it was never intended to be a permanent one.

Our uneasy friends over the river are much distressed because Mr. Giddings has denounced the present fugitive slave law, and they fear his language will hurt feelings. To relieve them we will say that Mr. Giddings's language is none too strong and might as well be applied to the dough-faces who support that infamous statute, as to the law itself. It is a very mean law, but not more detestable than the bounds who are anxious to hunt up slaves under its provisions. Mr. Giddings, we have no doubt, acknowledges the necessity, under the constitution, of some sort of a fugitive slave law, either state or national, but one entirely different from the present law, which violates the rights of the states and the national constitution. The editors of the Democrat seem to consider the present fugitive slave law as "sacred" as Douglas once thought the Missouri Compromise, but that is a mistake. Some day it will be repealed, and more humane and constitutional provisions enacted, which shall protect the rights of the fugitive, as well as the lawful claims of the master.

It is said by the Chicago Herald and Times that Douglas has been the uniform and constant friend of the homestead measure. We never heard that he ever uttered a word in favor of it, but we do remember that he has spoken often after column of speeches on the negro question. We never heard very much of his voting in favor of a liberal and decent homestead bill, but we recall that once upon a time Ben. Wade, of Ohio, moved to take up the house homestead bill, instead of a bill to give the present thirty millions of dollars, which to purchase Cuba, and Douglas voted against Wade's motion. He was in favor of giving "niggers to the niggers" rather than land to the landless."

CONFLICT OF THE COURTS.—Two receivers have recently been appointed for the Milwaukee and Horicon railroad; J. C.

Fairchild by Judge McArthur, and Lindsay Ward by Judge Miller, of the U. S.

district court. Ward undertook to enforce his authority at Ripon by a loaded cannon; whereupon Fairchild caused him and his attorneys to be arrested for contempt of court and violation of the laws, and took them to Milwaukee. The practical question is whether our state laws, regulating our own internal affairs, are to be trampled under foot by the federal courts, or not.

FROM OREGON.—The Oregon legislature met on the 10th of September. The house was organized by choosing Douglas democrats for speaker and assistant clerk, and a republican clerk and sergeant-at-arms.

This looked so much like a coalition that six of the Breckinridge senators abso-

The republicans of the town of Plymouth met on the 25th inst., pursuant to notice.

Meeting called to order by K. W. Bemis, chairman of town committee. P. Wallihan was chosen chairman and J. M. Owen secretary.

Archibald Smiley, Jervis Bemis and E. J.

Andrew were chosen as delegates to the senatorial convention.

C. H. Ferguson, Edward Inman and C.

F. Cook were chosen as delegates to the assembly convention.

On motion the convention voted that the delegates have the power to appoint a substitute in case they should be unable to attend.

The convention then appointed Jervis

Bemis, C. F. Cook and H. C. Inman town committees for the ensuing year.

Meeting then adjourned.

HOW HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON INSULTS

NORTHERN WORKING MEN.—Mr. Herschel

Vesuvius Johnson, the Douglas candidate for Vice President, was in a state of excitement on Saturday night. The street in front of the St. Charles Hotel was moderately well filled with the first live Douglas crowd that has convened this season. Mr.

Johnson did not repeat his '53 apothegm, that "Capital should own Labor," nor did he allude in any way to his threats made in Georgia, of dissolving the Union; but he gave his hearers a re-hash of his New York and Philadelphia speeches. As this was the first time our Douglas friends have had a chance of exercising their lungs, they cheered right merrily, and we were glad to see them show some signs of vitality.

We had almost come to the conclusion that they were dead.

While, however, Mr. Johnson refrained from re-asserting that "Capital should own

Labor," he could not restrain his natural inclination to insult the laboring man.

Speaking of slavery, he said: LOOK AT

THE SLAVES IN YOUR OWN COUNTRY.

WORKSHOPS. THEY ARE DRIVEN

TO THE POLLS AT THE BECK OF

THEIR MASTERS, UNDER PENALTY

OF BEING DISCHARGED."

This was received with indignant cries of "Not so!" "No, sir!" "No sirree, bob!" and so on, the workmen in the crowd asked, "What about Capital owning Labor?" He answered by repeating the insult in substance: "I do not believe,"

he said, "in one white man owning another, as the masters in your work shop do."

This, also, was received with the same indignant response of "No! No!" "Not so!" and Mr. Herschel Vesuvius took to belching about "Popular Sovereignty," to

THE LATE ADVICES FROM EUROPE.—The

New York Independent of Friday says:

The advices from Europe speak of so unexpected a turn in the state of the weather and the condition of the wheat crop as to lead to a change in prices downward. The yield of wheat in England now represented to be a full average one. The rains have not prevented the growth of the plant, the fine weather enabling it to be garnered well.

Besides, the warehouses of London and Europe are stocked with foreign corn, both from Russia, Prussia, and this country, and the consequence is a great fall in price.

Largely the same also abroad for French importations, so that England and France will not suffer for lack of food at a moderate price comparatively. The Greek merchants seem to have a control of the market for foreign wheat. Their large establishments at London, in the Mediterranean, on the Black Sea, with branches in New York, are the medium of supply to England in what she is deficient in, and the result is that the market is made large, but a drawback has now occurred. They will not renew their orders except at a great reduction in price. Europe will want more wheat and four doubtless, but not at the excessive prices imagined by the speculators in grain.

A great proportion of our large crop will still be wanted at remunerative prices, and the present still high prices are drawing ample supplies from the west. It is for the benefit of the farmer to sell his grain at such remunerative prices. The consumption of our own country, it is to be remembered, far transcends any demand that comes to us from abroad, though the foreign demand fixes the market price. We observe the failure of the potato crop in England is great, and will increase the consumption of corn.

GIVE US THE PROOF.—The Watertown

Democrat, in its issue of Sept. 20th, in the course of its report of Larrabee's speech

at Watertown, says:

He stated and proved a fact which demonstrated the sincerity of the leading republicans in their professions of a purpose to carry out the principles of prohibition. In order to elect a speaker of the House of Representatives, and get the organization in their own hands, they gave a pledge that no attempts should be made to introduce bills relative to slavery in the Territories."

Now, we are fully of the opinion that this statement is a falsehood, and do not believe that any such pledge, as is above induced, was either asked or given. And we called on the Democrat to furnish the evidence to substantiate Larrabee's statement.

If he "proved" it, the evidence can be easily

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OFF for Chicago.

About two hundred Wide Awakes left this city this morning at 8 o'clock, to join in the great republican demonstration to-day and this evening, in honor of the visit to Chicago of the great statesman, WILLIAM H. SAWARD. It will doubtless be the largest political meeting ever held in the west, and the display of the Wide Awakes in the evening will surpass anything of the kind ever before attempted. Our Wide Awake company turned out pretty strong, and they have some hopes, we believe, of bringing back the $100 banner. This we think is hardly probable, as the test will be the number of each company compared with the republican vote of the town or city from whence they come. Our vote for governor last fall, in this city, being pretty large, will lessen our chances for securing the prize. Whatever may be the result, all will be amply repaid by the interesting occasion upon which they meet to do honor to the great statesman of New York, and in aiding to swell the tide of enthusiasm which is to carry "honest old Abe" into the presidential chair.

[Reported for the Gazette.] Wisconsin Conference.

At the appointed hour Prof. L. L. Kuox, of the Lawrence University preached the missionary sermon from Ps. 4, 6: "Who will show us any good." Though the Professor lacks some of the fire of western Young America, with some good degree of force he showed that good is to be found in bringing ourselves into harmony with the great eternal laws of the universe, and exhorted all to obtain this harmony and consequently to possess the missionary spirit.

The annual meeting for the election of officers was held immediately after the sermon, and the following officers were elected:

V. President—E. Cooke, D. D. Secretary—P. S. Bennett. Treasurer—P. B. Penne. Managers—J. M. Walker, L. D. Tracy, W. H. Sampson, N. J. Applin, W. Latin, E. P. Beecher.

The anniversary was held in the evening. Dr. Cooke presided and made a few remarks. The treasurer then made his report, showing that there has been received within the bounds of the conference for the past year $1,600 39. Janesville was the banner station, and Janesville district the banner district.

After the reading of the report, Rev. Denj. Barrett, a local English preacher, was called on and made some very interesting remarks. He led the audience all convulsed with laughter, some so far forgetting themselves as to cheer with their feet. The singing of that grand old missionary hymn, "From Greenland's icy Mountains," by the whole audience as joyously as by the choir was truly sublime.

Dr. W. L. Harris, who was expected on Saturday, was called upon the platform and gave a very interesting, yet hasty survey of the missions connected with our church and then wound up with a most stirring strain. It was grand, lovely, sublime and pathetic. Such a glorious ushering in of gospel day does not often fall upon mortal ears. The secretary seems all alive to his work and infuses new fire into all that listen to his noble strains.

A good part of the session this morning was occupied in receiving new members on trial. Dr. Harris made some stirring remarks, urging the preachers to greater activity in raising missionary funds. Rev. Mr. Sharpe a delegate from the Primitive Methodist, made some interesting communications, also Rev. Rufus Smith a delegate from the Frankan Evangelical Synod, made some thoroughly Holy Ghost remarks. Prof. D. Y. Kilgore, Principal of the Evansville Seminary, made some high promises for the Seminary in the future.

Session of the conference this evening at 7.

FOURTH WARD CAUCUS.—The committee in the 4th ward have designated Hume's planing mill as the place for holding the caucus to appoint senatorial delegates.

The three or four days of rainy and cloudy weather has had the effect to prepare the ground for fall ploughing, fill cisterns, raise the river—all desirable objects, which more than compensate for the gloomy, muggy and drizzling time we have endured. To day the clouds have vanished and sunshine enlivens the scene. Our streets will soon be filled again with a busy throng and trade and commerce resume their sway. It is a good thing to have clouds and storms, once in a while, that we may enjoy the bright, cheerful weather, of which we have so much in this latitude and meridian.

EVERETT'S LIFE OF WASHINGTON.—Sheldon and company, of New York, have issued a Life of Washington, by Edward Everett, in a neat duodecimo volume of 348 pages. It was written for the Encyclopaedia Britannica at the suggestion of Lord Macanlay. It is, of course, somewhat condensed, but is nevertheless a very interesting biography, written as it is in the faultless style of Mr. Everett. The domestic life of Washington is more particularly described than by any previous author. This volume may be found at Newell's, where a large assortment of new and choice books have recently been received.

NO CIRCUS.—Owing to the sickness of several of the performers the circus has been obliged to return home, therefore they will not visit this city to-morrow.

COMMON COUNCIL.—The city council had a meeting last night, and extended the time for the collection of taxes, twenty days. An ordinance was also introduced to prevent throwing nuisances into the river.

See notice in another column, "To Business Men." Lawyers and others having a surplus of writing on hand can be satisfactorily relieved of it by entrusting it to Mr. H.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OR for Chicago.

About two hundred Wide Awakes left this city this morning at 8 o'clock, to join in the great republican demonstration to-day and this evening, in honor of the visit to Chicago of the great statesman, WILLIAM H. SEWARD. It will doubtless, be the largest political meeting ever held in the west, and the display of the Wide Awakes in the evening will surpass anything of the kind ever before attempted. Our Wide Awake company turned out pretty strong, and they have some hopes, we believe, of bringing back the $100 prize banner. This we think is hardly probable, as the test will be the number of each company compared with the republican vote of the town or city from whence they come. Our vote for governor last fall, in this city, being pretty large, will lessen our chances for securing the prize. Whatever may be the result, all will be amply repaid by the interesting occasion upon which they meet to do honor to the great statesman of New York, and in aiding to swell the tide of enthusiasm which is to carry "honest old Abe" into the presidential chair.

[Reported for the Gazette.] Wisconsin Conference.

At the appointed hour Prof. L. L. Knox, of the Lawrence University preached the missionary sermon from Ps. 4, 6: "Who will show us any good?" Though the Professor lacks some of the fire of western Young America, with some good degree of force he showed that good is to be found in bringing ourselves into harmony with the great eternal laws of the universe, and exhorted all to obtain this harmony and consequently to possess the missionary spirit.

The annual meeting for the election of officers was held immediately after the sermon, and the following officers were elected: V. President—E. Cooke, D. D. Secretary—P. S. Bennett. Treasurer—J. M. Pease.

Managers—J. M. Walker, L. D. Tracy, W. H. Sampson, N. J. Aplin, W. Lentin, E. P. Beecher.

The anniversary was held in the evening, Dr. Cooke presided and made a few remarks. The treasurer then made his report, showing that there has been received within the bounds of the conference for the past year $1,500 33. Janesville was the banner station, and Janesville district the banner district.

After the reading of the report, Rev. Benj. Barrett, a local English preacher, was called on and made some very interesting remarks. He left the audience all convulsed with laughter, some so far forgetting themselves as to cheer with their feet. The singing of that grand old missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," by the whole audience as well as by the choir was truly sublime.

Dr. W. L. Harris, who was expected on Saturday, was called upon the platform and gave a very interesting, yet hasty survey of the missions connected with our church, and then wound up with a most stirring strain. It was grand, lovely, sublime and pathetic. Such a glorious ushering in of gospel day does not often fall upon mortal ears. The secretary seems all alive to his work and infuses new fire into all that listen to his noble strains.

A good part of the session this morning was occupied in receiving new members on trial. Dr. Harris made some stirring remarks, urging the preachers to greater activity in raising missionary funds. Rev. Mr. Sharpe a delegate from the Primitive Methodists, made some interesting communications, also Rev. Rufus Smith a delegate from the Frankan Evangelical Synod, made some thoroughly Holy Ghost remarks. Prof. D. T. Kilgore, Principal of the Evansville Seminary, made some high promises for the Seminary in the future.

Session of the conference this evening at 7.

Fourth Ward Caucus.—The committee in the 4th ward have designated Hume's planing mill as the place for holding the caucus to appoint senatorial delegates.

Everett's Life of Washington.—Sheldon and company, of New York, have issued a Life of Washington, by Edward Everett, in a neat duodecimo volume of 348 pages. It was written for the Encyclopaedia Britannica at the suggestion of Lord Macaulay. It is, of course, somewhat condensed, but is nevertheless a very interesting biography, written as it is in the faultless style of Mr. Everett. The domestic life of Washington is more particularly described than by any previous author. This volume may be found at Newell's, where a large assortment of new and choice books have recently been received.

No Circus.—Owing to the sickness of several of the performers the circus has been obliged to return home, therefore they will not visit this city to-morrow.

Common Council.—The city council had a meeting last night, and extended the time for the collection of taxes, twenty days. An ordinance was also introduced to prevent throwing nuisances into the river.

See notice in another column, "To Business Men." Lawyers and others having a surplus of writing on hand can be satisfactorily relieved of it by entrusting it to Mr. H.
